

OXLEAP22 CONFERENCE AT A GLANCE

09:15 - 10:00

REGISTRATION

[Entrance Hall]

10:00 - 10:15

WELCOME - Professor Susan Jebb

[Bernard Sunley Lecture Theatre]

10:15 - 11:00

PLENARY SESSION
Professor Sarah Bridle, University of York

[Bernard Sunley Lecture Theatre]
Chair: Professor Susan Jebb

11:00 - 11:25

REFRESHMENTS

[Foyer]

11:25 - 13:00

SESSION 1 [Bernard Sunley Lecture Theatre]

Chair: Pete Scarborough

A spatial method for quantifying the environmental and biodiversity consequences of food consumption (Dr Thomas Ball, University of Cambridge)

Online tool for representing biodiversity impacts of land use change in Great Britain: the case of exchanging meat for vegetables (Owen Nicholas, University College London)

Health effects of reductions in red and processed meat consumption in the United States: A microsimulation study (Joe Kennedy, University of Edinburgh)

The impact of livestock feed shortage on agricultural productivity and its potential country-wide impact on poverty in Ethiopia (Gebeyehu Manie Fetene, Addis Ababa University)

Economic implications of a protein transition: Evidence from Walloon Beef and Dairy farms (Océane Duluins - UCLouvain)

SESSION 2 [Room C]

Chair: Rachel Pechey

Serving up Sustainability: The effectiveness of Interventions to promote uptake of healthier- and lower-carbon meal options in institutional settings - A systematic review (Dr Pauline Scheelbeek, London School of Hygiene & Tropical Medicine)

Testing the effect of availability and ecolabels on the environmental impact of food purchases in worksite cafeterias: A randomised controlled trial (Madison Luick, University of Oxford)

Carbon and other environmental footprint labels: Potential and possible pitfalls (Emma Garnett, University of Oxford)

Impact of taxes and warning labels on red meat purchases in a naturalistic online grocery store: A randomized controlled trial (Lindsay M. Jaacks, University of Edinburgh)

Investigating the effect of a social norms message on meatless food purchases in UK university food outlets (Vibhuti Patel, University of Sheffield)

Making sustainable food choices during 'Veganuary' may negatively impact micronutrient intake (Elizabeth Eveleigh, University of Nottingham)

OXLEAP22 CONFERENCE AT A GLANCE

13:00 - 14:00

LUNCH AND POSTER VIEWING

[Foyer]

14:00 - 15:35

SESSION 3 [Bernard Sunley Lecture Theatre]

Chair: Joseph Poore

Worldviews, values and perspectives towards the future of the livestock sector (Kirsty Blair, University of Edinburgh)

The Future of the Dairy Sector: Sustainability, Innovation and Digitalisation as Key Success Factors (Lana Repar, University College Cork)

Accounting for diversity while assessing sustainability: Insights from the Walloon bovine sectors (Anton Riera, UCLouvain)

Contrasting costs of pig systems: synergies and tradeoffs in yield, greenhouse gas emissions, animal welfare and antimicrobial use (Harriet Bartlett, Oxford Martin)

Corn and the Range: The Origins of the Feedlot and its Lessons for Sustainability in the 21st century" (Nathan Sayre, University of California, Berkeley)

Dietary Change and Climate Change: What Role for Law-Making? (Rebecca Williams (Lecturer in Environmental Law, Edinburgh Napier University))

SESSION 4 [Room C]

Chair: Emma Garnett

What do people buy to replace meat? (McCormick, University of Aberdeen)

Feeding the future study (FEED): What are UK adults eating, and why? (Dr Keren Papier, University of Oxford)

Dietary guidelines, social norms and sustainable diets (Maddie Sinclair, University of Glasgow)

(How) are alternative proteins and sustainable diets currently included in national climate plans? An analysis of ten countries (Luke Spajic, University of Oxford)

How do we persuade existing meat-reducers to encourage their friends and family to also adopt more-plant-based diets? (Laura Thomas-Walters, Oregon State University)

Meat disgust and meat consumption - findings from two longitudinal studies (Elisa Becker, University of Exeter)

15:35 - 16:00

REFRESHMENTS

[Foyer]

16:00 - 16:45

PLENARY SESSION

Professor Sir Andrew Haines, London School of Hygiene & Tropical Medicine

[Bernard Sunley Lecture Theatre]

Chair: Professor Charles Godfray

16:45 - 18:00

POSTER SESSION AND DRINKS RECEPTION

[Foyer]